Hi Brad -

I hope that you had a nice holiday weekend.

Would you have a few minutes to talk tomorrow ??

As you know Jerry and I had a great discussion last week. He shared that my flight time and age could be a problem ??? He said that people with my experience and age were considered untrainable and set in our ways by some ???? He said he would run it past you , if you said bring me in he would. He went on to say that after he caught up with you he would call me back which he did not. Today and I reached out to him. You are copied on the emails we just exchanged.

Is this really the policy that if you have too much time you are untrainable ?????

Was really hoping to join the Frontier family .

Thanks ,
Bill

Hi Brad,

Bill Pearce here, from USA 3000 days. I miss that group of people. I stayed till the end.

I have applied to Frontier. I went to LinkedIn just to see if I had any connections at Frontier and you were the first listed so I thought I would reach out.

I have heard only great things about Frontier and would hope to have a chance to interview. I have approximately 4800 hours in the A320 , and quite honestly I miss flying it.

Can you offer any insight to the process and or offer any advice? My application is on file and regularly updated.

I am still living about 45 miles north of Baltimore and am presently at Republic, based at DCA.
Any insight would be welcome. Thanks Brad.
